STIPULATED PROTECTIVE ORDER

WHEREAS, the parties consider certain information likely to be disclosed during discovery to be confidential within the meaning of Rule 26(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure;

WHEREAS, the parties mutually desire that a protective order limiting use, access to, and disclosure of such confidential information be entered;

It is hereby AGREED and STIPULATED among the parties and ORDERED pursuant to Rule 26(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure as follows:

1. Any document, deposition testimony, or other information disclosed in this case, or any portion thereof, may be designated as “Confidential,” “Confidential – Counsel Only,” or “Highly Confidential – Source Code” by any party or witness if such party or witness reasonably believes in good faith that such material is properly entitled to protection under Rule 26(c)(1)(G) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

2. Information, documents, or other things subject to protection under this Order (“Protected Material”) shall be identified as “Confidential,” “Confidential -- Counsel Only,” or “Highly Confidential – Source Code.” The words “Confidential,” “Confidential -- Counsel Only,” or “Highly Confidential – Source Code” shall be placed clearly on each page or portion of the Protected Material at the time the Protected Material is produced. If a party through inadvertence produces or provides discovery of any Protected Material without first labeling, marking or designating it as “Confidential,” “Confidential -- Counsel Only,” or “Highly Confidential – Source Code,” then the Producing Party may, within ten (10) days after the discovery of the inadvertent production, give written notice to the receiving party or parties that the Protected Material is “Confidential,” “Confidential -- Counsel Only,” or “Highly Confidential – Source Code” and should be treated in accordance with the provisions of this Order. The receiving party or parties must treat such Protected Material in accordance with this Order from the date such notice is received. Disclosure of such Protected Material prior to receipt of such notice to persons not authorized to receive it shall not be deemed a violation of this Order; however, those persons to whom disclosure was made shall be

1 promptly advised by the receiving party that the material disclosed was "Confidential," 2 "Confidential -- Counsel Only," or "Highly Confidential -- Source Code" and must be treated 3 in accordance with this Order.

4 3. In the event the Producing Party elects to produce files and records for 5 inspection, and the inspecting party desires to inspect files, no marking need be made by the 6 Producing Party in advance of the initial inspection. For purposes of the initial inspection, all 7 documents and information within the produced files shall be considered as designated 8 "Confidential -- Counsel Only." Thereafter, upon selection of specified documents for 9 copying by the inspecting party, the Producing Party shall mark the copies of such documents 10 as may contain Protected Material with the appropriate confidentiality marking at the time the 11 copies are produced to the inspecting party.

12 4. Protected Material classified as "Confidential" may be disclosed only to the 13 following persons, except upon the prior written consent of the designating party or further 14 order of the Court:

- 15 a. Outside attorneys of record in this matter, and regular employees of such 16 attorneys assigned to and necessary to assist in the conduct of this action, 17 as well as in-house counsel for each party, provided that in-house counsel 18 are materially involved in the prosecution, defense, or settlement of this 19 matter, and provided further that such in-house counsel comply with 20 Paragraph 8 of this Protective Order. In-house counsel in this matter and 21 under this provision shall include one (1) in-house attorney for Motorola 22 Mobility, Inc., in its capacity of indemnitor of Sprint Nextel Corporation 23 and Sprint Solutions, Inc., who is materially involved in the prosecution, 24 defense, or settlement of this matter in this action;
- 25 b. Officers and employees for each party, provided that they are materially 26 involved in the prosecution, defense, or settlement of this matter, and 27 provided further that such persons comply with Paragraph 8 of this 28 Stipulated Protective Order;

- c. Independent experts and consultants (collectively, “experts”) retained in this action by the outside attorneys of record, provided that the expert satisfies the conditions set forth in Paragraph 5 of this Protective Order;
- d. A witness during a deposition or at trial who, on the face of the document, is clearly an author or recipient of the document;
- e. Court reporters or videographers who are preparing transcripts of testimony of a witness in this case;
- f. Outside vendors who perform scanning, photocopying, computer classifications or similar clerical functions, as well as jury consultants, trial consultants, and graphics and animation specialists, but only for so long as necessary to perform those services and no documents or copies shall be retained; and
- g. This Court and any court to which an appeal in this action might lie.

5. No expert shall receive Protected Material under Paragraph 4(c) or Paragraph 6 of this Stipulated Protective Order unless and until the conditions set forth in this Paragraph 5 are met. The parties currently disagree as to whether a person employed by one of the parties may serve as an expert in this matter. The parties have agreed to discuss whether an employee may be permitted to be an expert under Paragraph 5 if this becomes an issue later in the case. In the event the parties are unable to reach agreement, the party seeking to designate an employee as an expert may apply to the Court for relief. The parties agree that, except as provided by Paragraph 4(b), no “Confidential,” “Confidential -- Counsel Only,” or “Highly Confidential – Source Code” materials may be shown to any such employee absent agreement of the parties or Court order. However, an expert retained by a Party or its counsel as an outside expert in other matters shall not, merely by this fact, be considered an employee of a party. Any expert must be provided with a copy of this Stipulated Protective Order and must comply with Paragraph 8 of this Stipulated Protective Order. The signed acknowledgement form of Paragraph 8 must be sent to opposing counsel, together with the following information regarding the expert: name, present employer and title, and a resume

1 or similar description of prior work/employment, all past consulting relationships, a list of all 2 cases in which, in the last 4 years, the expert testified at trial or by deposition, and all past and 3 present affiliations with any party. Opposing counsel shall have ten (10) calendar days after 4 receipt of the expert's identification and signed acknowledgment to object in good faith, in 5 writing, to disclosure of Protected Material on the basis that disclosure of Protected Material
6 to the proposed expert would result in material risk of disclosure or misuse of the Protected 7 Material. Opposing counsel then shall have ten (10) additional calendar days to file a motion 8 for a protective order to exclude the proposed expert from receiving Protected Material.
9 Failure to object or file a motion within the time permitted by this Paragraph 5 shall be 10 deemed a waiver of any objection to the expert's access to the information. If a timely 11 objection is made, no disclosure of Protected Material shall be made to the expert until the 12 objection is resolved by the Court or the time for filing a motion under this Paragraph has 13 expired.

14 6. Certain financial, pricing, cost, licensing, supplier, vendor, marketing, 15 business strategy, sales, customer, engineering, development and technical information that is 16 particularly sensitive and/or of immediate competitive significance may be designated 17 "Confidential -- Counsel Only." Care shall be taken by the Producing Party to use the 18 designation "Confidential -- Counsel Only" only where the Producing Party has a good faith 19 belief that such protection is needed. Access to all Protected Material that is designated 20 "Confidential -- Counsel Only" shall be limited to only those persons designated in 21 paragraphs 4(a), (c), (d), (e), (f), and (g) above.

22 7. The parties shall only designate Protected Material as "Highly Confidential – 23 Source Code" if it contains proprietary "Source Code," which is defined herein as including, 24 but not limited to, software code, source code, object code, executable code, source code 25 listing, object code listing and documents that describe such software code, whether in 26 electronic or printed form. Protected Material designated as "Highly Confidential – Source 27 Code" may only be disclosed to outside attorneys of record in this matter, and regular 28 employees of such attorneys assigned to and necessary to assist in the conduct of this action,

1 and those persons identified in paragraph 4(c), (d), (e), (f), and (g) above. Further, a 2 designated expert under Paragraph 4(c) may make up to three printouts or excerpts of source 3 code for use in preparation of expert reports, provided that any such printouts, excerpts, and 4 expert reports are also subject to the restrictions of access imposed in this paragraph. Further, 5 the printouts or excerpts should only be a reasonable number of pages that is necessary for 6 case preparation activity. The Producing Party shall Bates number and label any printouts or 7 excerpts provided to the Receiving Party. Any printouts or excerpts must be marked "Highly 8 Confidential – Source Code" and must be kept in a secured locked area in their offices. Any 9 reports, exhibits, testimony, or other communication(s) that are to be filed with or presented 10 to the Court that refer to, relate to, or include any portion of the source code shall be limited 11 to only that necessary to support the argument made in referencing the Source Code and must 12 be designated as "Highly Confidential – Source Code" and lodged with the Court as provided 13 in Paragraph 9, and remain subject to the access restrictions imposed by this paragraph.
14 Source Code, and any Protected Material designated as "Highly Confidential – Source Code," 15 shall be made available for inspection during regular business hours at the Requesting Party's 16 choice of one of the offices of the Producing Party's outside attorneys of record on three 17 business days written notice on one stand-alone computer (that is, not connected to any 18 network, without limitation, a Local Area network (LAN) or the Internet, and shall not be 19 connected to a modem). The stand-alone computer shall have a copy of Microsoft Word 20 installed on it. No electronic copies of Source Code shall be made. No recording devices, 21 recordable media, or other electronic devices (including but not limited to sound recorders, 22 computers, cellular telephones, peripheral equipment, cameras, CDs, DVDs, floppy drives, 23 zip drives, thumb drives, USB memory sticks, portable hard drives, BlackBerry® devices, 24 Dictaphones, or telephone jacks) will be permitted inside the room housing the Source Code 25 at the offices of the outside attorneys of record for the Producing Party. A designated expert 26 may take notes relating to the Source Code, but may not copy the Source Code into the notes.
27 Such notes shall be treated the same as the printouts and/or excerpts mentioned above.

28 ///

1 8. Prior to disclosure of Protected Material to any person enumerated in 2 Paragraph 4(b) or (c), or any in-house counsel identified per paragraph 4(a), the person 3 receiving such Protected Material shall execute the attached Agreement To Be Bound By 4 Protective Order and a copy of such executed Agreement shall be retained by counsel for the 5 receiving party. A copy of the executed Agreement shall be provided to counsel for the 6 Producing Party within the time frame set forth in Paragraph 5 in the case of disclosure to an 7 expert; and at least five (5) calendar days prior to disclosure of Protected Information in the 8 case of disclosure to a person enumerated in Paragraph 4(b).

9 9. In the case of applications, motions or other papers submitted to the Court in 10 which a party submits Protected Materials, all documents containing Protected Materials that 11 are submitted to the Court shall be filed in accordance with the Court's proposed L.R. 10-5(b) 12 regarding filing documents under seal.

13 10. All notes, extracts, and summaries of Protected Material shall also be 14 considered Protected Material and shall be subject to the terms of this Order. All copies of 15 Protected Material shall be considered Protected Material.

16 11. A party shall not be obligated to challenge the propriety of a "Confidential," 17 "Confidential -- Counsel Only," or "Highly Confidential -- Source Code" classification at the 18 time made, and a failure to do so shall not preclude a subsequent challenge thereto. Any 19 party may request, in good faith, in writing to the party who produced Protected Material that 20 the classification be modified or withdrawn. A request presumptively is not made in good 21 faith if it seeks the de-designation of over 100 documents at one time if such documents are 22 not presented as a category of documents with a common reason the party requesting de-23 designation believes show why the group of documents as a whole should be de-designated.
24 If the designating party does not agree to reclassification within ten (10) days of receipt of the 25 written request, the Requesting Party may apply to the Court for relief. Agreement of the 26 parties to this Order shall not be construed as an agreement or admission by one party that 27 any information classified as "Confidential," "Confidential -- Counsel Only," or "Highly 28 Confidential -- Source Code" by the other party is in fact confidential information. In

1 determining whether any such designation is proper, the Court shall be governed by the 2 standards set forth in Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(c) and the case law thereunder. The burden of proof 3 and persuasion shall be on the party seeking to maintain confidentiality.

4 12. Protected Material disclosed through testimony or otherwise at any deposition 5 in this litigation may be designated as "Confidential," "Confidential -- Counsel Only," or 6 "Highly Confidential -- Source Code" by any party or the witness by indicating on the record 7 at the deposition or by written notice to the opposing party and the court reporter within 8 fourteen (14) days of receipt of a transcript thereof. All transcripts shall be treated as 9 "Confidential -- Outside Counsel Only" until expiration of the fourteen (14) day period, 10 unless otherwise agreed by the parties and witness on the record at the deposition or in 11 writing. The court reporter shall designate those portions of the deposition transcripts which 12 are designated on the record as Protected Material with the appropriate "Confidential," 13 "Confidential -- Counsel Only," or "Highly Confidential -- Source Code" legend. If Protected 14 Material is to be disclosed during a deposition, any persons present who are not authorized to 15 receive such material shall be asked to leave the deposition until such time as the testimony 16 no longer involves disclosure of such material.

17 13. This Order shall not bar any attorney identified in paragraph 4(a) above in the 18 course of rendering advice to his or her client from referring to or relying in a general way 19 upon his or her examination of Protected Material produced or exchanged herein, provided 20 however, that in rendering such advice and otherwise communicating with his or her client, 21 the attorney shall not disclose the specific contents or substance of any Protected Material 22 produced by another party herein if that disclosure would be contrary to the terms of this 23 Order.

24 14. Except as set forth in Paragraph 14 of this Stipulated Protective Order, all 25 Protected Material, including information contained in Protected Material, may be used only 26 for the purposes of the present litigation, including all appeals, and in proceedings to enforce 27 a subpoena in connection with this litigation. In all appeals and proceedings to enforce a 28 subpoena, the party relying upon the Protected Material shall use appropriate procedures to

1 ensure that the Court treats the Protected Material as “Confidential,” “Confidential – Counsel 2 Only,” and “Highly Confidential – Source Code” in accordance with this Stipulated 3 Protective Order. At the conclusion of this litigation, by final judgment, settlement, or 4 otherwise, each party shall promptly return to the other party all Protected Material produced, 5 disclosed, or designated by such other party during this litigation. Alternatively, a party may 6 destroy these materials and certify in writing that it has done so. Notwithstanding the 7 foregoing, outside counsel may retain an archival copy of documents filed with the Court, 8 deposition transcripts with exhibits, and discovery responses that contain Protected Material, 9 provided such archival copies are maintained in confidence. Except as provided above, 10 neither party shall retain a copy in any form of Protected Material after the termination of this 11 litigation. The treatment accorded Protected Material under this Order shall survive the 12 termination of this action.

13 15. In the event that a party seeks discovery from a non-party to this action, either 14 the non-party or the parties may invoke the terms of this Order with respect to any Protected 15 Material provided to the parties by the non-party by so advising all parties in this suit in 16 writing. Any non-party that discloses Protected Material under this Order shall be entitled to 17 the rights of a party under this Protective Order with respect to those produced materials.

18 16. Nothing in this Stipulated Protective Order shall restrict a party’s use of its 19 own Protected Materials. Similarly, nothing in this Order shall be deemed in any way to 20 restrict the use of information that is lawfully obtained or publicly available to a party 21 independently of discovery in this action, whether or not such information has also been 22 obtained during the course of discovery in the action.

23 17. Execution and entry of this Order shall not prevent a party to the litigation or a 24 non-party under Paragraph 15 from seeking modification of or relief from this Order or from 25 seeking other relief or protective orders as may become appropriate or necessary to efficiently 26 prepare this matter for trial.
